The young people will found their new home in the City-by-the-Sea, where the young husband has a host of good friends who wish them both the best the world has to offer.

Do You feel sleepy and not a bit like working in the afternoon? Perhaps it's because of the kind of lunch you're eating—too heavy and too hard to digest. Why not try the Palace restaurant on Commercial street, where all the baking is done in those famous slow-process ovens, which turn out light appetizing, wholesome things! You'll save money, too.

Guess It, Who Can—Under the caption of the "F. H. W. C." no more, no less, articles of incorporation were filed at the county clerk's office yesterday, presumably by the group of Astoria capitalists who purchased the Page property at Twelfth and Commercial streets, on Saturday, Messrs. J. A. Fulton, E. Z. Ferguson and C. R. Higgins, the tenure of the concern "F. H. P. Co." is perpetual, its capital stock named at $25,000, divided into 250 shares of the par value of $100 each; and the recorded objects of the "Co." are to acquire, dispose of, manage and generally handle real estate, hotels, etc., etc.

LOCAL EAGLE'S EYRIE ENTERTAINS

CLANS GATHER ROUND THE WAS-SAIL BOARD AND SMOKE THE PIPE OF PEACE, MIDST MERRY-MAKING AND JOLLITY.

Yesterday afternoon the local eyrie of Eagles gathered at their home on Duane street and proceeded to dine and wine visiting members. The cash register, had there been one, would have been turned to the wall early in the game for hospitality was the slogan of the clans and the verdict of the jury as represented by the guests was "guilty in the first degree of being royal good fellows."

The chief offender in the matter of undiluted Bonifacial adaptability was "miz' host" Mr. Herman Wise, whose nimble wit and entertaining personality, lent itself to the occasion most willingly and readily.

The opening numbers on the program were orchestral numbers by the eyrie orchestra of fourteen pieces, under the leadership of Director Searles. The technic and phrasing of this orchestra both in ensemble and solo numbers, reflects most creditably upon both director and individual members as in this instance Mr. Searles has one of the most competent and perfectly controlled musical organizations in the Northwest.

The next musical offering on the program was a tenor solo by Mr. Fred Bauer, who sang Von Tilzer's "Tell Me With Your Eyes," in a manner that proved him a most artistic performer and promising singer.

This was followed by several quartet numbers by the well known Rose City aggregation which, since its first appearance here with the Mack Swain company has won many friends by beautiful and finished musical numbers.

The crowning number of the entertainment was the sailors' song and dance as handed out by Messrs. Swain, Wright and Hutchison. Altogether the entertainment was fully up to the standard which has ever characterized the Eagles' afternoons.

During the early part of the afternoon the Hon. Olof Anderson, representative to the grand Eyrie at Milwaukee, read his report which was well received and proved that Mr. Anderson had given his most unlimited attention to his home Eyrie while away.

During the course of the afternoon many gifts were presented the members and their visitors.

Dr. Linton objected strenuously to receiving a bottle of his own wares, a fact which will probably result in suspicion on the part of some people, but otherwise everyone seemed satisfied.

CHRONICLE OF ASTORIA'S DEAD

THREE FUNERALS OUT OF THIS CITY ON SUNDAY AND YESTERDAY—OCEAN VIEW, GREENWOOD AND WESTPORT, THE GRAVES.

Sunday and yesterday were sad days in many of Astoria's homes, for hundreds of friends were made cognizant of the passing of those they loved and respected by the three funerals ensuing here in the forty-eight hours. At 10 o'clock on Sunday morning, a host of friends, including Beaver Lodge No. 35, I. O. O. F., and Gateway Lodge No. 77 C. R., gathered at the Grand avenue home of Captain J. W. Babbidge to pay the measure of final honor and respect to the dead mistress of that home, Mrs. Julia Babbidge. Each and all came laden with flowers in testimony of their deep esteem and their abundance was exceeded only by their lavish and varied beauty. The solemn and beautiful ritual of the Episcopal church was unfolded most feelingly by Rev. W. Seymour Short, of Grace church, and the music rendered was in perfect consonance with the utter sadness of the occasion. The funeral cortege passed from the house to the depot, where in special cars, attached to the mid-day express from Portland, it was taken to the cemetery at Ocean View and there all that was mortal of this most excellent "Mother in Israel" was consigned to the grave, under the friendly auspices and impressive ceremonies of the Order of Rebekah by Gateway Lodge No. 35, her devoted friends and companions in life.

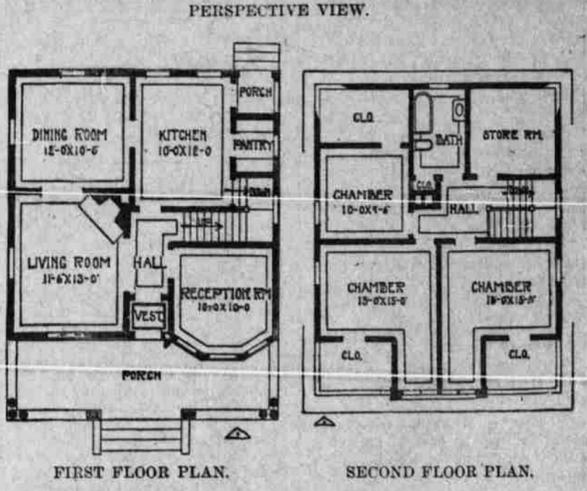

The funeral services in honor of the late William Jackson, janitor at St. Mary's hospital and who fell to his death in the elevator shaft there on Friday night last, occurred at 7 o'clock yesterday morning at St. Mary's church, mass and service being conducted by the rector, Rev. John Waters. The casket was then taken to the depot and transported to Westport, where the dead man was laid to rest by the side of his wife in the cemetery there.

The home-coming of young Israel Hakala, who a few short years ago left his home and parents here, to seek his way in life, abroad, was a sad one for the parents, who received his body on Saturday last, casketed, from Aberdeen, where he died on Thursday night last, of tuberculosis. He was just in his early manhood, being but 22 years of age. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the parlors of W. C. A. Pohl's undertaking establishment on Twelfth street, Rev. G. E. Rydquist, pastor of the First Lutheran church, officiating and interment was had at the Greenwood cemetery.

Pretty Little Cottage For $1,600

This Design Shows That Cheapness Does Not Necessitate Ugliness.

Copyright, 1906, by Glenn L. Saxton, Minneapolis, Minn.

We illustrate herewith an attractive little house which has been built in the vicinity of Minneapolis for $1,600. The size of the house is 29 by 25 feet. This arrangement affords one sleeping or reception room on the first floor and three nice bedrooms in the second story. The ceilings of the first story are eight feet six inches high, of the second story eight feet. Birch floors are suggested. The living rooms in the first story should be trimmed in plain red oak, the bedroom being finished in white enamel, while the second story bedrooms should be painted white. The house may be well heated by central located stoves or by a hot air furnace in the cellar. GLENN L. SAXTON.
